CHAPTER L Fondly the knight of the Silver Shield loved the fair and noble Lady Gwendoline, and she as fondly returned his love. She returned it because it was so nice to have him give it back to her as he always did. "My own," he murmured, classing her to his bosom.

"Here, too," she whispered as she covly nestled her flaxen head upon the stovelid cuirass he wore over his manly chest, partly for protection and partly for revenue only. CHAPTER IL

But the old dake, the Lady Gwendoline's father, was opposed to the match He had asked the knight to take off his silver shield and substitute a gold one, and the knight had refused with scorn and contumely. The knight still owed for the silver shield, and he did not care to mortgage his immortal soul for a change. "Do as I command," sternly ordered the old duke, "or never be son-in-law of mine." "Well, I don't think," hissed the

It was chiefly owing to the Roman Catholic clergy, so it is claimed, that the Canadian French kept out of the Union. The clergy had a horror of radicalism and revolutions. They sincerely believed that monarchy was a divinely ordained form of government and that no other could stand. They were loyal to the British government and kept the habitans from coming over to us. In return for this the British crown gave the there are tens of thousands of nuknown Roman Catholic clergy many privileges Died With His Chum.

In the reminiscences of General Sig Evelyn Wood, himself a brave English soldier, a touching instance of courage and self sacrifice is given. One June day in 1885 a detachment of English ma-Thick was crossing the Woronzow road under fire from the Russian batteries. All of the men reached shelter in the and yelled:

"Look out! It is Whistling Dick!" But at the moment Blewitt was struck by the enormous mass of iron on the article that is safe, effective and reliknees and thrown to the ground. He called to his special chum:

"Oh, Welch, save me!" The fuse was hissing, but Stephen Welch ran out of the trenches, and seizing the great shell tried to roll it off of his comrade.

It exploded with such terrific force that not an atom of the bodies of Blewitt when each hour had its excitement. this deed of heroism stirred the whole English army. In Australia the diffusion of horses that have escaped from civilization has been quite as rapid, and in 1875 it was found necessary to shoot as many as 7,000 wild horses in the colony of New South Water In some parts of Australia the horse post has received legislative notice. The ion them, and wild stallions also invade the Australian horse runs and vitiate choice herds in a most amornig manner. They recur to the ancestral manners in a way that is always the same. Each stallion has his following of mares, ranging from a few up to 40 and even 50, and these parties may be separate or banded together in herds of onsiderable size, even, it is said, 400 strong. The young and the weak mares remain with a scanty or even no following. The stallion has to maintain his supremacy by frequent combats, which especially occur at certain seasons of the year. The animals are suspicious in the extreme, swift in flight, but hold in defense with tooth and heel in emergency. They range extensively in search of pasture and water, and when hard pressed number of prosperous states of this Un- by danger and familie the herds break up. It is said that each troop has a leader and implicitly obeys him. He is the first to face danger and give the hint to fly. LET US TALK LINENS!

A good many things go to make up a perfect Linen store, and go where else you may, you will find some of the essentials lacking. The one shortcoming that concerns Linen users most closely, is the mistaken ideas that are given out concerning values. We count nothing worth a place in our store but absolutely pure flax goods. Hence, the Linen business at Bluem's store is growing larger and larger each day. See the new Linens put on sale here to-day.
